TREASURE BINGO

WHAT YOU NEED

- One numbered card per player (48 different cards). Card stock works best.
- King's Seal markers: up to 24 per player for a full card (one marker sheet has 42).
- The caller tiles, cut around each tile's gold edge and put in a bag, bowl or crown. Keep the checklist and a pencil handy.

CALLING A TREASURE

The caller draws one tile from the bag without peeking, then:

- Name it: read the name out loud, for example "Gold Key!"
- Show it: hold the tile up so everyone can see the picture.
- Ask "Got it?" and give players a moment to find it anywhere on their card and cover it with a King's Seal.
- Set the tile aside face up (do not put it back) and tick it on the checklist.

THE ROUNDS

- Round 1, One Line: five in a row across, down or corner to corner. The free King's Seal in the middle counts.
- Round 2, Four Corners: cover all four corner squares.
- Grand Finale (optional), Full Card: cover every square on the card.

How long? One Line usually takes about 9 to 14 calls and Four Corners about 13 to 21 (fewer with more players). A Full Card needs nearly the whole bag (around 30 of the 32 tiles), so the finale often ends in a tie.

Before each new round, clear the cards, put every tile back in the bag, and use the next tick column on the checklist.

CALLING "ROYAL!" AND CHECKING

When a player finishes the pattern, they call out "ROYAL!" The caller pauses and the player reads each covered square back. The caller checks each one against the tiles already called. If every square has been called, that player wins the round. If one has not, uncover it and keep playing.

Tie rule: if two or more players finish on the same treasure, they are all winners.

BIG PARTIES AND TIES

Ties grow with the number of players, not the number of cards. With up to about 16 players, ties in One Line are uncommon (about 1 game in 6). With more than about 24 players, play Four Corners first (ties drop to about 1 game in 8), or use the Royal Draw tiebreak.

Royal Draw tiebreak (optional): each tied player draws one tile from the tiles still in the bag, in turn. The first player to draw a treasure that is on their own card wins.

LITTLE ROYALS

Younger children can play with a grown-up helper who sits beside them, points to the pictures and helps place the King's Seals. The pictures and names make it easy to play before reading.
